

Life has Seasons!

Spiritual Seasons

Look at the Trees

The Season of Winter

The Season of Spring

Spring is the season of hope

We have been shut up in our houses for winter longing to get out

Spring is marked by bright colors

Warmer and longer days

The changes inspire us

For some its even a time to clean up and clean out

The Tree

It begins this season in its barren state

But like us it springs to life

Barren branches begin to sprout blossoms and buds

By the end of this season those blossoms and buds will be leaves, fruit and flowers

This is the Season of Obvious Growth

Spring is in your face (and for allergy people in your head)

It bright and vibrant

This is the Season of Renewal

The tree had dropped its leaves to prepare for winter

The tree had cast its fruit to provide for new life

Now all it sacrificed is restored

This is the Season of New Life

In a natural forest beside the mighty tree you may begin to see sprouts

New tiny trees that are growing because of what the tree was willing to shed

This season of life is an exciting and busy time for the tree

Spiritual Spring (Isaiah 4:2-5)

A Season of Remembering

The first is He made and formed you

God will help you

Do not be afraid because God chose you

A Season of Rain

We understand the need for rain but that does not mean we like it

God promises two kinds of rain

Physical

Spiritual (Romans 5:5)

A Season of New Life

A Season of Commitment

The growth of spring will prepare us for the heat of summer
